RAID 3 SALOONS IN SEARCH OF BOOZE

Police Close One Bar in First Action Against Alleged Bootleggers.

Joplin, Aug. 17.—Following persistent reports that various Joplin saloons which since July 1 have been permitted to sell non-intoxicating drinks, are violating the war-time prohibition act, a police squad headed by Charles McManamy, assistant chief, last night raided two saloons and one wholesale retail liquor store.

Establishments raided were: The Brockman saloon, Sixth and Main street; Fehrenbach's liquor store, No. 111 West Sixth street, and the Union bar, No. 120 West Sixth street.

At the Brockman saloon the police claim to have found a quantity of whiskey stored in violation of the prohibition act. The establishment was closed by the police, and liquor confiscated as evidence. No stored liquor was found in either of the other two bars, and no arrests were made in any of the cases.

The raid last night was the first specific action that has been taken by the police department to prevent the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors by former saloon operators, although several saloon men have been warned that they were reported to have sold prohibited beverages. According to McManamy, complaints against various bars were received last week in ever-increasing numbers, and the saloon operators were warned that violation of the federal act would not be tolerated.

FIGURES SHOW BIG LIVING COST JUMP

Increase From December, 1914, to June, 1919, Was 80 Per Cent.

Washington, Aug. 16.—General increases of about 80 per cent in the cost of living during the period from December 1914 to June 1919 were shown in tables made public here today by the department of labor. The tables were based on investigation in various representative cities over the country. In every instance greatest increases were recorded in the prices of clothing and house furnishings. Food advances were of third importance. Figures for the period from December, 1917, to June 1919, show general average increases of about 20 per cent.

Total increases in the two items of food and clothing without considering other items in family budgets showed enormous increases from December, 1914, to June, 1919; the advance in the case of Chicago being 157.07 per cent.

Smaller increases in such things as housing, fuel and light and miscellaneous items lowered the general average increase.

In all instances the increase in clothing prices were greater than any other item.
